

THE STORY OF SAMUEL

Just like he knew Samuel, God knows your name, and God still calls young and old today saying, "Come, follow me."

Let's Get Started

Episode Theme: Worshiping God: God Calls His People.

1. In Matthew 4:19, Jesus calls his first disciples to follow him. All throughout the Bible, God calls people to follow him. What do you think it means to be called by God?
2. When God calls people to follow him, he calls them to learn from him, to do his will, and to serve him. Sometimes, what God calls us to do can be joy-filled, and other times, it can be tough. As you listen to this episode, think about what God called Samuel to do for the rest of his life. How did Samuel respond to the difficult things God told Samuel to do?

Memory Verse

The Lord came and stood there, calling as at the other times, "Samuel! Samuel!" Then Samuel said, "Speak, for your servant is listening."

1 Samuel 3:10

After You Listen

Samuel spent his whole life serving God. When he was very young, his mother dedicated him to God, and he lived in the temple. And when he was much older, he anointed Saul as Israel's king. Most of the things that God called Samuel to do were difficult, the first of which was to tell Eli that God would punish his disobedient sons. Years later, it would not be easy to tell the whole nation of Israel that they had left God and must return to him. But God was always with Samuel, even during the most challenging things he commanded him to do. And Samuel always listened to God.

Listening to God and obeying his commands isn't always easy. God might want you to stand up to someone who is doing something wrong or to be a friend to someone who is lonely. God promises to be with us, especially amid the most challenging things we could ever do.

You can read lots of stories about Samuel and how God was always with him in the book of 1 Samuel in the Old Testament. Want to dig deeper and learn more about listening to God? Check out Proverbs 2:1-5, Matthew 4:4, and John 10:27-28.

Challenge

Listening for God to call might not seem as easy as it was for Samuel. We communicate with God through prayer when we talk to him and listen for his answers. Spend a little prayer telling God that you are listening for him and waiting to be called by him to follow. Now, pay close attention to what happens after you have prayed. Listen for him to call you into something that is his will for you. God may not speak to you directly, but you might hear him through the advice of an adult or friend. Or you may hear God while you pray to him or read the Bible. You may also hear him through something that you experience in your life.

Maybe God will call you to stand up for someone who is hurting. Or, maybe he will tell you to stop doing something wrong for you and spend more time following him instead. Whatever God calls you to, go for it, knowing that he will be with you every step of the way.
