

SHOWING JUSTICE AND MERCY

November 15, 2020

Bible Readings

Take a few minutes to read the Bible verses listed and ask the Holy Spirit to lead you in how this verse applies to you this week.

Philippians 1, Philippians 2, Luke 10:25-37, Deuteronomy 6:5

Memory Verse

Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit. Rather, in humility value others above yourselves, not looking to your own interests but each of you to the interests of the others. (NIV)

Philippians 2:3-4

CASEY'S DAY

written by Ron Vandenburg
illustrated by Chad Thompson

One day, a teacher of the law stood up and tested Jesus with a question about eternal life. Jesus asked him what answer scripture gave. The man responded with Deuteronomy 6:5, saying that people had to love God and love neighbors. It was a good answer, and Jesus affirmed it. Then the man asked, "And who is my neighbor?" Did the teacher of the law not know that answer or was he acting out of "vain conceit" to try and trick Jesus?

Jesus tells the parable of the Good Samaritan. This story showed the teacher of the law how to assist people in need.

First, a Samaritan – not a religious leader – stops to help the beaten man.

Second, the Samaritan is quite generous toward the man. He bandages the man's wounds and uses his own supplies. Whatever his own travel plans, the Samaritan takes the man to an inn. He pays his expenses while he recuperates at a nearby inn. He also promises to return. That's a lot of time and effort.

Did the Samaritan do what's right? That's justice. Did he have any tenderness and compassion? Yes, he took pity on the man. Did the Samaritan value the needs of the man above his own? Yes, even the teacher of the law identified that as mercy.

Jesus told him (and us) "Go and do likewise."

Prayer

Heavenly Father, give me a heart for justice, tenderness, and compassion. In my life, lead me to love you and love my neighbor, valuing others above myself. All in your name, Amen.

written by Ron VandenBurg

<https://kidscorner.net/devotions/showing-justice-and-mercy>
Printed on January 12, 2025